ABOUT THIS DIRECTORY

Navigating senior services and housing can be challenging. Sage Seniors Association (Sage) produces the Directory of Senior Services to help you along the way.

At a time when information and resources are increasingly online, we know that a hard copy of the Directory with listings of seniors housing and services, helpful checklists, and information, remains a valued resource that can be referred to as needs emerge and change.

This edition of the Directory is made available thanks to financial investment of:

- › Sage Seniors Association
- › City of Edmonton
- › CN
- › Advertisers
- › Community Donors

Special thanks to:
Great West Media
(advertising & production)
Unison in Calgary
(content sharing).

Please note:

Services included in the Directory as listings or advertisements are not vetted by Sage and Sage is not endorsing any business or organization by including them in the Directory.

HOW TO USE THE DIRECTORY

The Directory is divided into two sections:

1. Senior Services
2. Seniors Housing.

Each section has a Table of Contents and there is an Index at the back. Listings included are for Edmonton and surrounding areas.

HOW THE DIRECTORY IS CREATED

Producing the Directory requires collaboration with advertisers, senior serving organizations, production and distribution partners, volunteers, and staff. Together we make this resource available to community at no cost to the reader.

Sage coordinates Directory content with the senior serving community. Private / for-profit organizations are required to purchase an ad to be included, a model which helps cover a significant portion of production costs.

If a senior-serving organization is not listed in the Directory, let them know that you missed them! If you would like to include a listing or advertisement in the Directory, contact directory@mysage.ca.

Your feedback is valued. A short survey is available at the back and online at: www.mysage.ca/publications/directory.

ABOUT SAGE SENIORS ASSOCIATION

For over 50 years, Sage has worked towards a vision of community where all seniors are valued and have the opportunity to live according to their beliefs, abilities, and aspirations.

Sage aims to provide inclusive, barrier-free, asset-based and person-centered programs and services that:

- › Aid seniors in times of difficulty
- › Support seniors in sharing their gifts
- › Help seniors stay connected

COMMUNITY-BASED SENIORS SERVICES

Sage provides outreach support services (system navigation, help with forms, help finding affordable housing, referrals to other services), income tax preparation, multicultural seniors outreach, and social prescribing services; fosters senior-led initiatives in community; offers senior-led life enrichment activities; and provides refuge from elder abuse.

Sage serves all individuals who identify as a senior, with expertise in providing social supports for low-resourced seniors.

COMMUNITY LEADERSHIP

Sage is always working to improve services for seniors across Alberta. Sage works with organizations such as the Edmonton Seniors Coordinating Council, Healthy Aging Alberta, and Edmonton Social Prescribing Network to coordinate senior services; offers support to grassroots groups to increase capacity at the community level; engages in research projects to help understand and improve services that support seniors; and collaborates with partners to address gaps in systems.

COMMUNITY SUPPORT

Gifts from community through donations, grants sponsorships, and volunteer time help maintain supports that prevent crisis, provide connections that improve the lives of seniors, and fill gaps to ensure seniors have access to a network of support they can count on.

When you support Sage, you support seniors.

THE CANADA PENSION PLAN (CPP)

www.canada.ca/en/services/benefits/publicpensions/cpp

- CPP provides contributors and their families with partial replacement of earnings in the case of retirement, disability, or death. It is a monthly payment for someone at least 60 years old who has worked and made valid contributions to the CPP.
- The pension amount depends on how much and for how long you have contributed to the CPP and at what age you want their pension to start. The standard age to start the pension is 65. However, you can start receiving it as early as age 60 or as late as age 70. If you start receiving your pension earlier, the monthly amount you'll receive will be smaller.

HOW TO APPLY

Apply online through My Service Canada Account (MSCA). If you do not already have a MSCA, you will need to request a personal access code (PAC). A PAC is your key to accessing Service Canada's secure online services.

-or-

Complete, sign, and mail the Application for Canada Pension Plan Retirement Pension (ISP1000) to Service Canada.

OLD AGE SECURITY (OAS)

www.canada.ca/en/services/benefits/publicpensions/cpp/old-age-security

- The OAS pension is a monthly payment available to seniors aged 65 and older who meet the Canadian legal status and residence requirements lived in Canada for a minimum of 10 years.

OAS ALLOWANCE is a monthly payment for someone aged 60 to 64 whose spouse or common-law partner is receiving the OAS pension and is eligible for the Guaranteed Income Supplement.

THE GUARANTEED INCOME SUPPLEMENT (GIS)

www.canada.ca/en/services/benefits/publicpensions/cpp/old-age-security/guaranteed-income-supplement

- GIS provides a monthly non-taxable benefit to OAS pension recipients whose annual income (or in the case of a couple, a combined income) from the previous year is below the eligible threshold and are living in Canada.

CPP DISABILITY BENEFIT

A monthly payment for someone under the age of 65 who has worked and contributed to the CPP and whose disability is severe and prolonged and prevents them from working at any job on a regular basis. Dependent children may be eligible for CPP Children's Benefit.

CHANGES IN PERSONAL SITUATION

Changes in someone's personal situation may affect your benefits. Service Canada must be notified when any of the following events occurs:

- A couple can no longer live together for reasons beyond their control (e.g., if one of them is in the hospital or a Long-Term Care facility), they may be entitled to a higher payment.
- Change in marriage or common-law relationship status.
- Change of address; or any absence from Canada over six months.

DEATH

Service Canada must be notified as soon as possible when someone receiving CPP and/or OAS benefits dies. The month in which someone dies is their last month to receive benefits. Any benefits received after that month must be repaid.

SURVIVOR BENEFITS

www.canada.ca/en/services/benefits/publicpensions/cpp/cpp-survivor-pension

- Death Benefit is a one-time, generally made payable to the estate or other eligible individuals, upon the death of CPP contributor.
- Survivor's Pension is paid to the person who, at the time of death, is the legal spouse or common-law partner of the deceased contributor.(if eligible). Apply as soon as possible after the contributor's death. If you delay, you may lose benefits.
- CPP Child Allowance for dependent children of a deceased CPP contributor.
- Allowance for the Survivor: if you are 60-64 years of age and income is below the set threshold.

PENSIONS FROM OTHER COUNTRIES

- If you lived or worked in another country, you may be eligible for social security benefits, either from that country or from Canada. – Contact Service Canada for more information.

WHAT TO DO WHEN A SENIOR DIES

When someone dies there are a number of agencies, businesses, and government departments you may need to inform.

WHAT TO DO FIRST

- Provide the CRA (Canada Revenue Agency) with the date of death as soon as possible: Call: 1.800.959.8281. See Guide RC4111 “What to Do Following a Death” at www.cra.gc.ca.
- Notify Service Canada: 1.800.277.9914. Social Insurance Number is required to cancel Old Age Security, Canada Pension Plan, and Guaranteed Income Supplement.
- Obtain information from the deceased person’s tax records.
- Pay any tax installments due before the date of death. To appoint an authorized representative to manage tax matters on your behalf, complete Form T1013.
Note: any fees paid to you as an Executor, may need to be reported on a T4.
- Notify Seniors Financial Assistance Program (low-income individuals over 65), Call: 1.877.644.9992 with deceased’s personal health number.
- Notify Alberta Seniors Benefit: Toll-free 1.877.644.9992. Give name, date of death, and Personal Health Number of deceased.
- See if you are eligible to apply for any Survivor Benefits. See Service Canada

COMMON QUESTIONS

How do I know if I am the legal representative?

- You are named as executor in the will
- You are appointed as the administrator of the estate by a court
- You are the liquidator for an estate in Quebec

If there is no legal representative, responsibility passes to a family member in the following order: Spouse, Child, Child’s Parent, Sibling, Grandchild, Nephew/Niece, Other sole remaining relation.

What if I am unable to obtain documents that establish me as the legal representative?

- Complete Form RC552, available at canada.ca/cra-forms or call 1.800.387.1193

What form of “death certificate” do I need, and how do I obtain one?

- A Funeral Director’s Death Certificate (5-10 copies) should be sufficient for most cases (vehicle registry, banks, etc.)
- If the Funeral Director’s document is not sufficient (settling investments, canceling a health card, etc.) a certificate can be ordered from a private registry agent.

WHAT TO DO WHEN A SENIOR DIES

If the deceased's name is on the title of a property or home:

- Contact Land Titles at 780.427.2742.

If the deceased dies without a will:

- Contact the Public Trustee at 780.427.2744.

Finances and Insurance

- Cancel and destroy credit cards, and empty safety deposit boxes
- Notify the bank and either close or update accounts. The bank will require a copy of the will and death certificate.

When should I consider hiring a lawyer?

- There are numerous assets, accounts, and beneficiaries
- There is a possibility the will is going to be contested

Vehicle, Utilities & Insurance

- Notify phone, internet, cable companies
- Notify gas & electricity companies
- Notify home, vehicle and life insurance companies

If you are not able to identify the source life insurance company or cannot find the policy of the deceased, the OmbudService for Life & Health Insurance, Toll Free: 1.888.295.8112 may be able to assist.

If a vehicle is registered in the name of the deceased:

- Contact Service Alberta at 780.427.7013
- Remove the deceased's name from car insurance
- Parking placards may be cancelled at any Registries office.

Social Media and Internet Accounts

- Closing email accounts may prevent identity theft.
- For social media accounts, consider three basic options:
- Delete all accounts (activity and photos will be lost)
- Keep accounts up but not active
- Memorialize the accounts

If the deceased was a veteran receiving benefits or support services, contact:

- Veterans Affairs Canada: 1.866.522.2122 (English) / 1.866.522.2022 (Français)
- Some veterans may be eligible for assistance with funeral costs, contact the Last Post Fund
- Toll-Free: 1.800.465.7113 Email: info@lastpost.ca www.lastpostfund.ca

PERSONAL AND FINANCIAL DECISION MAKING OPTIONS

See also: Estate Planning and Legal Resources

There are a number of options available when a person does not, or can not, handle their financial and personal affairs. Visit www.alberta.ca/opgt-supports for information and support.

ENDURING POWER OF ATTORNEY:

A legal document used to appoint someone to make financial and legal decisions on your behalf.

- A power of attorney is “enduring” if it states its power continues after mental incapacity or it can be written to only take effect when mental capacity is lost.
- If you prepare this document, there is no need for your family to apply to be your trustee in the event you lose capacity.
- It is best if this document is prepared by a lawyer.

PERSONAL DIRECTIVE:

A document used to appoint someone else to make personal decisions on your behalf when you are unable to make your own decisions due to illness or accident.

- Decision making may include medical treatment, accommodation, and other personal care problems.
- This legal document ends on the death of the represented individual; it is typically signed at the same time as the Enduring Power of Attorney.

GUARDIANSHIP:

A guardian is appointed by the court to act on behalf of a person who is no longer mentally capable.

- Guardians may make decisions such as where to live, health care, etc.
- For assistance with application contact Office of the Public Guardian and Trustee call 780-427-0017.

TRUSTEESHIP:

A trustee is appointed by the court to handle the financial matters of a senior.

- Generally the person acting as a trustee will also act as a guardian to ensure that both financial and personal matters are handled.
- For assistance with application contact Office of the Public Guardian and Trustee call 780-427-2744.
- An “Informal Trusteeship” is a no-cost way for someone – an informal trustee – to help adults who receive government payments and have difficulties managing their money and remembering to pay their bills.

ALTERNATE PERSONAL DECISION-MAKING OPTIONS:

There are additional levels of personal decision-making support available to help an adult remain as independent as possible including: supported decision-making, specific decision-making, co-decision-making. For more information, visit www.alberta.ca/making-personal-decisions-for-incapable-adults.

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS & RESPONSE

BE PREPARED FOR EMERGENCY EVENTS

If an emergency happens in your community, it may take emergency workers some time to reach you. Be prepared to take care of yourself, family and pets for up to 72 Hours.

Emergency events such as extreme weather, wildfire smoke and air quality hazards, and public health crises could lead to evacuation or shelter in place responses.

Should any such event occur, stay informed with updates from Alberta's Emergency Alert system and from emergency authorities releasing information on local television and radio stations and through the City of Edmonton's social media.

Ways to prepare ahead:

- Create and share Emergency Contact Lists
- Prepare Emergency Kits
- Check your Insurance
- Sign up to receive Alberta Emergency Alerts to stay informed of potential risks to your health, safety or community

See www.alberta.ca/emergency-preparedness for helpful information and resources.

ELDER ABUSE

Elder abuse is defined as any action or inaction by a person(s) in a trusting relationship that jeopardizes the health or well-being of an older adult. It includes denial of an older adult's fundamental rights, and neglect (active or passive) by a caregiver. It can take many forms including: financial, physical, emotional, sexual, spiritual abuse or neglect.

An abuser can be anyone. Most often the abuser is a family member or partner but may also be friends or caregivers. They are most often close enough to have influence or control over the victim. Abuse includes using name calling, threats, yelling, put-downs, or physical intimidation to control the senior's actions or decisions. It also includes taking money or possessions without permission, and using coercion to have a senior sign documents. In many cases, older adults feel they have to give in or agree to something in order to avoid escalation or to ensure their safety.

Sometimes abuse can unintentionally occur due to caregiver stress. With additional supports for the older adult and the caregiver, some of this stress can be relieved.

Victims include both males and females from every income level and culture, as well as people in both good and poor health.

SIGNS OF ABUSE

Older adults being abused may become withdrawn, depressed, and isolated. They may have financial difficulty, unexplained injuries, anxiety, or difficulty sleeping. They may have changes in hygiene, nutrition, or medication or experience diminishing self-esteem.

SOME EFFECTS OF ABUSE

Abused or neglected older adults have a 200% increased risk of early death. The stress of living in an abusive situation shortens an older person's life and can significantly increase the person's chances of becoming ill or may make other health problems worse.

OVERLOOKING WARNING SIGNS

Sometimes signs of abuse are mistaken as a part of growing older or may look like other health conditions. For example: mental confusion, depression, or anxiety resulting from abuse or neglect may look like dementia. People may not realize that sometimes older adults are experiencing frequent falls or have long-term pain because they are being abused or neglected. Ageism can also play a factor in why these warning signs are overlooked. Ageism is a social attitude and a way of looking at older people that stereotypes them. For example, often in situations of abuse, older people aren't taken seriously because they are viewed as being forgetful and seen as complainers.

ESTATE PLANNING

WILLS AND ESTATES

ESTATE:

- Is all the property and money owned by an individual when they die.

WILL:

- Is a legal document prepared by a person prior to their death that outlines how their Estate will be given out after their death.
- It is always wise to have a lawyer prepare a will to avoid legal problems.

INTESTATE:

- A term used for a person who dies without a valid will.
- Contact a lawyer or Public Trustee for instructions on how to handle this situation.

HOLOGRAPH WILL:

- Holograph wills are legal in Alberta but not in all provinces or territories in Canada.
- Holograph wills must be written in the Testator's own handwriting and must be signed by the Testator and are not witnessed.
- These types of wills can be prepared in an emergency, but it is important that they clearly state what your intentions are.

EXECUTOR:

- Is the person or persons named in a will to deal with any financial matters related to the person who has died and to distribute the estate.

BENEFICIARY:

- Is the person or organization named in a will who will receive the assets of the estate.
- The executor and the beneficiary may be the same person.

PROBATE:

- Probate is a legal process that takes place after someone's death. It involves proving that the deceased's will is valid and dividing the property as instructed by the will.
- By planning ahead, it may be possible to avoid probate.
- Property that is held jointly with a spouse or other person does not need to be probated.
- Before any transfer of assets, it is a good idea to get legal advice.
- There may be costs and tax to pay.
- Probate may not be necessary if the estate is small.
- Probate is required when a house or investment is in the deceased's name only.
- A will needs to be probated if any individual such as a financial institution or the land titles office asks for it to be probated.
- Applications for probate are usually made by a lawyer however a lawyer is not required.

For more information visit: www.alberta.ca/surrogate-forms-non-contentious-matters

- You can also order A User's Guide for Grant Applications from the King's Printer by calling 780.427.4952 ($49.95 available in paper and as a pdf).
- Court and Justice Services 1.855.738.4747 can offer assistance with forms.

JOINT LAND TITLES:

- It is a good idea to have both husband and wife listed on a land title to eliminate the need of probate.

- Lawyers DO NOT recommend that children or grandchildren be put on a land title.
- By adding another person to a land title, that person receives an equal share in the property and the property cannot be sold without that individual's permission.

WHAT HAPPENS IF YOU DIE WITHOUT A WILL?

- The Wills and Succession Act sets out how and to whom property is transferred when a person dies. Information about this act is available by visiting www.alberta.ca/wills-in-alberta

PLANNED GIVING

Every day, lives are enriched by the work of registered charities, foundations, and other not-for-profit organizations in our communities. Financial assistance is essential to support and sustain their charitable work. By leaving a gift in your will or estate plan to the charitable group(s) of your choice, you can have a positive impact on a cause that matters to you.

A financial gift can also be a very practical addition to a financial or estate plan when tax issues are taken into consideration. In most cases, the tax burden left to relatives is lifted significantly. Your financial advisor can provide guidance on how giving may actually benefit your family after you're gone.

Things You Can Do Today to Leave a Legacy:

- Prepare a will
- Choose your charity
- Name an alternate beneficiary
- Consider memorial gifts
- Ask your legal or financial advisor for advice

LEAVE A LEGACY THAT SUPPORTS SENIORS

Sage Seniors Association (Sage)

- As a registered charity, Sage welcomes planned gifts to help sustain social supports and opportunities for seniors.
- Programs and services that assist at-risk and vulnerable seniors are made possible in part due to planned gifts made by community members. Contact Sage to discuss this special giving option - ask to speak to someone about planned giving;

FRAUDS & SCAMS

Every year Canadians lose hundreds of millions of dollars to fraud. Anyone can be a victim, but seniors are a favourite target of criminals looking for ways to steal money. These criminals use various methods - email, online, the phone, surface mail, or even in-person contact. As technology becomes more sophisticated so do their techniques. It's important to know how to protect yourself from fraudsters and scammers.

The Little Black Book of Scams is a fraud protection guide provided by the Competition Bureau. It is available online in eight different languages and is a downloadable pdf.

TIPS ON HOW TO AVOID GETTING SCAMMED

There are some basic actions you can take to protect yourself from fraudsters.

Protect Your Identity

- Only give out your personal details and information where it is absolutely necessary, and when you trust the person you are speaking to. Do not give personal info of any kind over the phone.
- Guard your mail. Promptly remove mail from your mailbox after delivery. Ensure mail is re-routed if you move or change your mailing address.
- Destroy/shred personal information, don't just throw it out.

Money Matters

- Never send money to anyone you don't know.
- Never pay anybody with gifts cards, money wire services, or bitcoin. No legitimate organization will ask for these forms of payment.
- Do not send any money or pay any fee to claim a prize or lottery winnings.

Telephone

- Never give out your personal, credit card, or online account details over the phone unless you made the call, or you are certain that the phone number came from a trusted source.
- You can't always trust the number on the phone screen. It's easy for fraudsters to pretend to be a legitimate business on the phone by "spoofing" a call that falsifies their ID and number on screen. If you're uncertain, hang up, look up the phone number, and then call back.

Email

- Never reply to spam or unsolicited email. Never click on any links. Delete any suspicious or unsolicited emails without opening them.
- Never give your personal, credit card, or online banking details through an email.
- Legitimate banks and financial institutions will never ask you for your account details in an email or ask you to click on a link in an email to access your account.

Internet

- Set up two-factor verification on your financial and online accounts. That's a security process in which users provide two different processes in order to verify themselves.
- Utilize passwords on your credit card, bank, and phone accounts. Avoid using easily available information such as your mother's maiden name, your birth date, the last four digits of your SIN, or your phone number.
- Install software that protects your computer from viruses and unwanted programs and make sure it is kept current.
- Never enter your personal, credit card, or online account information on a website that you are not sure is genuine.

In-Person

- Limit the amount of ID cards that you carry. Don't carry your SIN card; leave it in a secure place.
- If someone comes to your door, ask to see their identification. You do not have to let them in, and they must leave if you ask them to.

TYPES OF SCAMS:

There are many types of scams, here are some of the most common:

Emergency/Grandparent Scam

- A grandparent receives a phone call from a con artist pretending to be a grandchild.
- They say they've been in a car accident or are in trouble with the law and need money immediately. Wanting to help, the victim sends the money as instructed. Variations on this scam exist but predominantly the emergency scam is directed toward the grandparents.

False Charities

- Fraudsters call, pretending to be a legitimate charity. Signs of a bogus charity include pressuring you to contribute immediately, thanking you for a pledge you didn't make, or has a copycat or misleading name. If you think the call is a scam you can hang up, or ask for their charitable tax number, then call the Canada Revenue Agency at 1.800.267.2384 and confirm the numbers.

Inheritance Scheme (Foreign Money Offer)

- This is a solicitation usually requesting assistance in the transfer of a large sum of money from a foreign country. The solicitation may come from a lawyer or some legal entity advising the victim of an inheritance of a sum of money. The victim is asked to pay one or more advance fees before the money can be released. The money or inheritance is fictitious, and the victim never receives the money promised. This is sometimes referred to as Nigerian or West African fraud.

Lotteries, Sweepstakes, and Contests

- These scams target people by phone, email, or social media. They claim that you've won a large lottery or sweepstakes and are required to pay a small advance fee - through a money service business such as Western Union or by loading funds to prepaid credit cards such as iTunes - to cover taxes or fees associated with the win. Never pay fees upfront. These are scams!
- You cannot win money or a prize in a lottery unless you have entered it yourself, or someone else has entered it on your behalf.
- You cannot be chosen as a random winner if you did not submit an entry.

Phishing Scams

- These are deceptive, unsolicited emails, claiming to be from a legitimate organization such as a bank, business, charity, or government agency. Phishing scams are designed to get victims to click on links or attachments that result in the installation of malicious software.
- These emails often contain spelling and formatting errors. Also check the embedded hyperlink in the suspicious email by hovering your mouse over it to verify the address.
- NEVER click on any attachments - they can contain viruses and spyware. It's best to delete unsolicited emails before opening them.

Romance Scam

- This is the most common scam, resulting in the highest financial loss. Scammers target people by befriending them on Facebook or dating sites. The scammers are not who they say they are. They are usually fraudsters based in Nigeria. They use photos of attractive people stolen from the internet, and the men often claim to be military members working overseas. Once the scammer has gained the victim's affection and trust, they ask for and receive money, and often gain access to the victim's bank account and credit cards.

- Canadians lost $59 million dollars to romance scams in 2022. This scam has also led to incidents of suicide in cases where victims have lost their life savings.

Tax scams

- Fraudsters call, impersonating the Canada Revenue Agency, claiming that the victim owes back taxes. They say that repayment is required immediately, threaten the victim with jail time and/or deportation, and demand payment in money transfers, gift cards, or bitcoin.
- Always contact the CRA 1-800-959- 8281 to confirm whether you owe back taxes or are entitled to a refund. The CRA will never request payment by money wire services, iTunes gift cards, or bitcoin.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU GET SCAMMED:

- Don't be embarrassed. Report it, starting with your local police. Reporting it can help protect other victims. You should also warn your friends and family.
- If you think someone has gained access to your online account, telephone banking account, or credit card details, call your financial institution immediately so they can suspend your account and limit the amount of money you lose. Credit card companies may also be able to reverse the transaction if they believe that your credit card was billed fraudulently.

WHERE TO REPORT A SCAM:

- If you are a victim of a scam, call local police.
Edmonton City Police Phone: 780.423.4567
- If you've received a scam phone call, email, or text, report them to:
The Canadian Anti-Fraud Centre
Phone: 1.888.495.8501
www. antifraudcentre.ca
- If you sent money to someone that you think may be a scammer, immediately contact the financial institution where the money was sent.
- If your bank has not already processed the transfer or cheque, they may be able to cancel it.
- If you sent money through a wire service (such as Western Union), they may be able to stop the transfer, if you contact them immediately.

If the fraud took place online through Facebook, eBay, a classified ad such as Kijiji, or a dating website, report the incident directly to the website. These details can be found under "report abuse" or "report an ad."

- Victims of identity fraud should place flags on all their accounts and report to both credit bureaus:

DAY PROGRAMS

Adult Day Programs are designed for adults over the age of 18 who may have physical and/or memory challenges or are living with a chronic illness. They play a key role in allowing people to remain living in the community as long as possible by optimizing their level of physical, spiritual, social, and emotional function. Adult Day Programs also provide respite and education for caregivers.

For further information or to make a referral:

Phone: 780.496.1300

www.albertahealthservices.ca

NOTE: Many organizations such as Elder Care provide Day Programs in locations around the city. Access to these programs requires an assessment by an Alberta Health Services Case Manager.

CONTINUING CARE - HOME CARE

Alberta Health Services

Phone: 780.496.1300

Email: continuingcare@albertahealthservices.ca

albertahealthservices.ca

www.albertahealthservices.ca

- Home Care is publicly funded personal and healthcare services for clients of all ages living in a private residence or other setting, such as suites in a retirement residence.
- Home Care provides help with activities of daily living that the client cannot do themselves or cannot get help with from another source; these are often activities that are considered necessary for the client to safely maintain their independence, like personal hygiene or medication management.
- Home Care supplements care and supports provided by families and community services.
- An assessment by an AHS Case Manager is required to determine eligibility for Home Care services. Assessments may be coordinated by contacting Continuing Care Access at 780-496-1300.
- Home Care does not provide all services a client may need but can help arrange supports provided in your community. A case manager works directly with the client and is responsible for assessing the client's needs and ensuring the overall coordination of care and services.

CHOICE PROGRAM

Comprehensive Home Option for Integrated Care of the Elderly

Phone: 780.496.1300

www.albertahealthservices.ca

The CHOICE program provides services for older adults who have complex health issues and want to remain living in their own homes. The goal of the program is to keep clients healthy, at home, and out of the hospital system.

Services may include:

- Medical monitoring and treatment by CHOICE physicians and nurses
 - Medications dispensed by the CHOICE pharmacy
 - Physical and occupational therapy
 - Social Work (and Pastoral Care Services at a Good Samaritan location)
 - Recreation and social activities
 - Personal assistance with daily tasks, as needed
 - Health and wellness education
- This service offers several streams at different locations, including streams focused on: Main stream, mental health, later-stage dementia, restorative care.
- Once referred, you will be contacted by an AHS health professional to ask about your goals, determine with you which stream will best meet your needs, and coordinate your first day at the program.

The Alberta Aids to Daily Living (AADL) program helps Albertans with long-term disabilities, chronic illness or terminal illness. The program provides funding for basic medical equipment and supplies so clients can live independently at home and within their communities.

- To obtain AADL funding, you must first be clinically assessed by an approved health care professional. That person determines what equipment and supplies you can get through the AADL program. If you are eligible, they will give you an authorization for products from AADL's product list.
- To find an approved health care professional, contact your local health care centre, hospital or call HealthLink 811. Let them know what kind of equipment or supplies you are looking for, and ask them to help you find an AADL Authorizer.
- AADL is a cost-share program. Albertans pay 25% of the benefit cost to a maximum of $500 per individual or family per year. If you receive provincial income assistance or if your income is below qualifying thresholds, you may be exempt from cost-share payments.

LEGAL RESOURCES & SERVICES

WHEN TO CONSULT A LAWYER

Lawyers serve a wide range of a client's needs. You should consult a lawyer:

- To purchase a home or a business
- To draft a will, personal directive, or power of attorney
- When Incorporating or forming a partnership contract
- If you are being sued by someone
- If you are charged with a criminal offence.
- A lawyer's principal responsibility is to ensure that each client obtains the benefit of their legal rights and is aware of their legal obligations. Lawyers have a fiduciary duty to act in the best interest of their clients. In approaching this duty, lawyers have three fundamental obligations:
 - Serve clients competently
 - Be loyal to clients
 - Keep client communications confidential.Lawyers can also assist with planning estates, administering wills, mediating disputes, writing letters and opinions, taking steps to avoid litigation, and negotiating settlements.

TRAVEL

TRAVEL INSURANCE

Consider whether purchasing travel insurance is right for your trip.

Types of Travel Insurance Coverage

- Medical travel insurance can help provide coverage to limit out-of-pocket costs if you become injured or sick.
- Evacuation: If you're abroad and must deal with a natural disaster or political unrest, getting to a safe place in a strange land is a harrowing experience. It can also be incredibly expensive. Travel insurance can help cover the cost of getting out of harm's way.
- Cancellation travel insurance covers cancellations due to illness and injury, and other problems such as if your tour provider goes bankrupt or an airline delay causes you to miss your event.
- Baggage insurance will provide some reimbursement for lost, damaged or stolen luggage.
- Death and dismemberment: Similar to typical life insurance, this option provides your heirs with a payout should you die during your trip.

VOLUNTEERING RESOURCES

There are many reasons to volunteer: learn new skills, help your body and brain to stay active, keeps you engaged which can help prevent loneliness and isolation, and it's an excellent way to share your gifts, have fun and make new friends.

There are several ways to find volunteer opportunities that match your skills, and interests:

VOLUNTEER CONNECTOR

www.volunteerconnector.org

- digitally matches potential volunteers with their interests. Whether it's being a volunteer dog walker, making Christmas cards and delivering hampers during the holiday season, teaching ESL, or using your computer skills to provide a non-profit group with IT support, you'll find the ideal volunteer job on Volunteer Connector.
- Visit their website to start your volunteer search.

If you're a fan of arts, culture, and Edmonton's many festivals, consider volunteering. Why not volunteer for your local senior's centre? These non-profits do so much to enhance the lives of seniors and the community as a whole and rely on volunteers. Check out our Seniors' Centres (See pages 82 - 86)

TO MOVE OR NOT TO MOVE CHECKLIST

Use this checklist to help you decide whether to remain living at home or to consider moving. Ideally, the senior will answer the questions, either in writing or in conversation with the family.

SAFETY:

Is your home suitable and safe?

How difficult is it for you to manage the stairs in you home?
How willing or able are you to clean your home?
How willing or able are you to maintain the yard and outside of the home?
Do you have enough help available when necessary: e.g. during a short-term illness?
Are you at risk for falls? Does your home have good lighting, bathroom safety bars, handrails, and safe flooring?
Do you smoke? Do you have and maintain smoke detectors?
Do you have a hot water safety valve on hot water taps?

FINANCES:

Is the choice to stay in your home economically sound?

What minor and major repairs must you make in the next few years?
Would freeing up the cash in your home allow you to have a more enjoyable lifestyle?
Are taxes, insurance, utilities, and other costs affordable for you?
If not, do you have finances available for renovations or adaptations if they are necessary?
Could you get financial assistance for renovations or adaptations?

LOCATION:

Is the location of your home suitable?

Is adequate transportation available for medical appointments, social activities, and visiting friends and family?
Are stores and other services within easy reach?
Is the neighbourhood safe and pleasing to you?
Do you value the relationships you have with your neighbours?
Do you have adequate access to friends, and social and church activities?
Is your own physical mobility or driving ability an issue?

SUPPORT SERVICES:

Are necessary in-home support services available and/or affordable for you?

Do you need any of the following services? Can you find them and afford them? <ul style="list-style-type: none">> Household services (cleaning, yard work, minor repairs)> Home-delivered meals, grocery delivery> Visitors, companions, drivers, etc., volunteer or paid> Access to adult day programs (if required)> Personal care services> Professional services (physiotherapy, nursing)
---	--

After completing the checklist, talk to your loved ones or other supports and determine your answer to the following question:

Is the decision to stay at home in your best interest?

- Definitely yes
- Maybe
- Definitely not

SENIORS HOUSING TERMINOLOGY

One of the biggest frustrations of Albertans trying to navigate seniors housing options is the multitude of confusing terms used to categorize and describe seniors housing.

ASCHA (Alberta Seniors & Community Housing Association) has been investigating this conundrum in order to find a better solution. In their “Creating Common Terminology for Seniors Housing in Alberta” report, they describe the problem:

“The various levels of services and supports offered are described in various ways, using words or phrases that may not be familiar outside of the sector itself. Terminology and labels are very specific to government programs, levels of care within the health system, and euphemistic language used by marketing experts. To further complicate the issue, the same living environment is labeled differently depending on the information source, or its geographic location. There is a long history of term inconsistency, and it is part of the reason why Alberta’s seniors housing offerings appear so complex in comparison to other jurisdictions.”

In this year’s Directory we have taken ASCHA’s lead and categorized housing options without the use of terminology that tends to be used in different ways. We hope it is helpful but encourage you to ASK QUESTIONS of each housing provider to get the clarity you need. The Directory is just a starting point.

We will continue to work with senior-serving organizations to try to improve clarity and transparency— in the meantime, please read each individual listing to determine what best suits your needs, (rather than only searching by category).

HOUSING DEFINITIONS

AFFORDABLE HOUSING: Housing in which rent is below market value.

APARTMENT: A dwelling situated above or below one or more other units (residential or non-residential). The “apartment” unit may share common hallways and access to the outside with other units. Apartments usually consist of a main living space, a small kitchen, a bathroom and may have one bedroom or two bedrooms, or no separate bedroom if it is a studio/bachelor apartment.

BARRIER FREE: Means that a building, suite, facility and a path of travel can be approached, entered, and used by persons with physical or sensory disabilities, including those in a wheelchair.

SENIORS HOUSING DEFINITIONS

CONDOMINIUM: A form of property ownership where the purchaser buys a piece of property individually, and shares property ownership with other owners in the same condominium complex. There are governing rules, regulations and requirements. “Condo fees” are charged to cover building maintenance and other shared costs. Typically a condominium is an apartment or townhouse. The Government of Alberta produces a Consumer Tips sheet for Purchasing a Condominium that can be downloaded at www.open.alberta.ca/dataset/consumer-tips-purchasing-a-condominium.

DEMENTIA CARE / MEMORY CARE: Memory care is a term used sometimes used by private housing providers to describe (and market) a type of supportive living for individuals with dementia and Alzheimer’s. These suites are accessed privately, directly thorough the facility operator and are not part of the AHS Designated Supportive Living Program (although they may offer both types of suites in the same facility). In addition to the typical services found in supportive living, such as meals and housekeeping, dementia care services generally include additional nursing supports and specialized recreation programming. Each housing operator will have a different service model.

INDEPENDENT LIVING: Refers to environments in which individuals are responsible for and capable of arranging any care and support services (functionally independent) needed – including AHS Home Care or private support services.

LIFE LEASE: A contract between a resident and an organization which grants the resident the right to occupy a unit for the balance of his/her life. Financial requirements depend on the particular development, residents typically invest in their apartment on a “life lease”, allowing them to live in their own suite for as long as they choose. The requirement is usually a deposit of 35%-100% of the suite value before moving in. All residents pay a monthly fee to cover operating costs, such as property taxes, utilities, and maintenance of common areas. When less than the full value of the suite has been deposited, there is a monthly rental charge to finance the unpaid balance.

Should you decide to move out, or in the event of your death, the amount of your original investment is refunded or returned to your estate.

When purchasing a Life Lease suite, the agreement should be reviewed by an accountant or lawyer for the same reasons that a professional would advise on a real estate purchase.

SENIORS HOUSING TERMINOLOGY & DEFINITIONS

MARKET VALUE: The valuation in a competitive open market (market rate value). “Below market Value” is an amount that is below the going market rate.

PERSONAL CARE HOMES: Residences providing a home-like atmosphere where two to ten residents receive support services such as meals, housekeeping, and personal care services. Personal Care Homes may be privately operated (licensed or unlicensed) and care level may vary.

RENT GEARED TO INCOME: A tenant’s rent, which includes heat, water and sewer expenses, typically it is based on 30% of total income, but variations do exist. Rent does not include electricity, phone, TV, or additional services such as parking.

ROW HOUSE OR TOWN HOUSE: Ground-oriented housing attached to two or more similar units so that the resulting row structure contains three or more units.

SENIORS LODGE: Seniors lodges typically offer single and double bed/sitting rooms, meals, housekeeping and other services, and recreational opportunities for seniors who are functionally independent, with or without the help of existing community-based services.

Seniors Lodges may be operated by private for-profit or nonprofit organizations, however the majority of lodges are managed by a housing management body through the Seniors’ Lodge program administered by Alberta Seniors and housing. See in Housing Resources.

SUPPORTIVE/ASSISTED LIVING: These terms are used broadly yet neither are regulated (outside of Designated Supportive Living- see AHS Continuing Care information) which results in no single definition. Generally it refers to a living environment in which there is access to supports and services. The settings can be operated by private for-profit, not-for-profit, or public operators. In addition to providing a place to live, services in supportive living accommodations may include meals, housekeeping, and social activities. Residents may also receive professional and personal support services through home care. Typically supportive/assisted living residents pay a monthly accommodation charge to cover the costs of providing accommodations and services like meals, housekeeping and building maintenance.

INDEPENDENT LIVING | SUPPORTIVE LIVING | MEMORY CARE | ENHANCED SUPPORTIVE LIVING

Where community is at home, and life is well-lived.

ALBERTA HEALTH SERVICES CONTINUING CARE SYSTEM

Continuing Care is made up of three main levels: Home Care, Designated Supportive Living and Long Term Care. To get started, you need a case manager. See also Health Services.

	Home Care	Designated Supportive Living	Long-Term Care
What is it?	Healthcare services to help people remain well, safe and independent in their home or congregate living setting (i.e. a lodge) for as long as possible	Provides a higher level of personal care supports onsite while promoting residents independence to “age in place”	Designed specifically for individuals with complex, unpredictable medical needs who require 24 hour onsite Registered Nurse assessment and/or treatment
Who is it for?	Anyone living in Alberta with a valid health-care card can receive services, as long as their needs can be met safely in their place of residence	Individuals who have increased care needs and require access to 24 hour monitoring and support	Individuals who have highly complex and unpredictable health needs whose care cannot be safely provided in their own home or in designated supportive living
Who provides care?	Home care providers, the client and family/caregivers are all active partners of the care team	Health Care Aides are onsite 24-hours a day and scheduled professional care (nursing, rehabilitation therapy, etc.) is available depending on your needs	Registered Nurses, Licensed Practical Nurses, Health Care Aides, and other healthcare professionals depending on your needs

Source: www.albertahealthservices.ca What is Continuing Care?

DESIGNATED SUPPORTIVE LIVING

Designated Supportive Living (DSL3, DSL4, DSL4D) is a living environment for those who are medically stable, need 24-hour personal care support, and occasional/scheduled professional care through the help of onsite Health Care Aides and a Licensed Practical Nurse. Health care services are provided on a scheduled basis but can be accessed as needed. DSL4D is a setting for those living with advanced dementia requiring a secure environment.

Accommodation fees typically cover rent, meals, housekeeping, linen and towels change, building amenities and recreation programming. Individuals provide or pay for room furnishings, medication, medical and surgical supplies for chronic wounds, personal medical equipment and incontinence products (costs may be shared with Alberta Aids to Daily Living depending on finances), cable, phone and internet, personal laundry, hair salon fees, toiletries and outings.

- Designated Supportive Living spaces are contracted by Alberta Health Services (AHS) at many locations within and around Edmonton.
- Clients must be assessed by an AHS Case Manager to be deemed appropriate for this level of care.
- Assessments are coordinated through Continuing Care Access: 780-496-1300

DSL ACCOMMODATION CHARGES:

Residents are responsible for the cost of accommodation or rent in designated supportive living, as well as for any additional care or support services requested by the resident that are not part of the care plan completed by the Alberta Health Services case manager.

Please note that the maximum accommodation charges in long-term care and designated supportive living increases annually on July 1 based on the Alberta consumer price index (CPI).

For the most current maximum accommodation charges, please go to www.health.alberta.ca/services/continuing-care-accommodationcharges

The Province provides financial assistance to eligible low-income residents in Long Term Care or in Designated Supportive Living through the Alberta Seniors Benefit program.

For more information: visit www.seniors-housing.alberta.ca/seniors

Call the Alberta Supports Contact Centre at 1.877.644.9992.

LONG-TERM CARE

Long term care facilities are designed specifically for individuals with complex, unpredictable medical needs who require 24-hour onsite Registered Nurse assessment and/or treatment.

Long term care supports those who have:

- Serious changes in health status requiring immediate health professional assessment;
- A need for medication management and other treatments;
- Conditions requiring the continued presence of a Registered Nurse and the consultative availability of rehabilitation or dietary professionals;
- Unpredictable or unstable behaviour that place the individual or others at risk; and/or
- Complex end of life care needs.

To access Long Term Care, clients must be assessed by an AHS Case Manager which can be coordinated through Continuing Care Access: 780-496-1300

LONG-TERM CARE ACCOMMODATION CHARGES:

Residents pay an accommodation charge to cover the costs of providing accommodations and related services like meals, housekeeping and building maintenance.

HOUSING RESOURCES: AFFORDABLE/SUBSIDIZED SENIORS HOUSING

The Alberta Government offers two kinds of “seniors housing” for individuals 65 or over who are functionally independent, with or without the assistance of community-based services:

1. SENIORS LODGE PROGRAM:

Offers rooms, meals, housekeeping services and recreation. Lodge operators set their own monthly lodge rates, but each resident must be left with at least $342 in monthly disposable income. May be appropriate for those who do not require care in a specialized health care facility. Applicants must be 65 years of age or older. Exceptions may be made for applicants with special circumstances.

2. SENIORS SELF-CONTAINED HOUSING PROGRAM:

Apartment-style housing with your own kitchen and bathroom. There might be a common area to share with others. Applicants must be 65 years of age or older and functionally independent, with or without the assistance of community-based services. Rent is based on 30% of income; includes heat, water and sewer expenses, does not include electricity, phone, TV and any additional services such as parking.

SENIORS HOUSING WITH SERVICE OPTIONS AVAILABLE

This list of housing options includes housing for older adults (see age eligibility) in which the housing provider offers optional supports and/or services such as meals or housekeeping.

- These options are available as fee-for-service packages. Ask the individual housing provider about the options available and the cost for such options.
- Home Care through AHS (or private pay care agencies) may be arranged by the resident if needed.

Listings are organized alphabetically by building name with Edmonton listings first followed by listings in surrounding communities.

Refer to the Area Map on page 121 for boundaries used to determine Northeast, Southeast, Central, Northwest and Southwest.

Note: Rental prices and housing details are subject to change - always confirm details with the individual housing provider.

SENIORS HOUSING WITH SUPPORTS INCLUDED

This list of housing options includes housing for older adults (see age eligibility) that includes supports or services such as meals or housekeeping in the base rent.

- The housing provider may also offer additional services/supports for a fee. Ask as many questions as needed to be clear on what is and is not included.
- Home Care through Alberta Health Services (AHS), or private-pay care agencies, may be arranged by the resident if needed.

Listings are organized alphabetically by building name with Edmonton listings first, followed by listings in surrounding communities.

Refer to the Area Map on page 121 for boundaries used to determine Northeast, Southeast, Central, Northwest and Southwest.

Note: Rental prices and housing details are subject to change - always confirm details with the individual housing provider.

SENIORS LODGES: EDMONTON

Seniors lodges typically offer single and double bed/sitting rooms, meals, housekeeping and other services, and recreational opportunities for seniors who are functionally independent, with or without the help of existing community-based services.

Seniors Lodges may be operated by private for-profit or nonprofit organizations, however the majority of lodges are managed by a housing management body through the Seniors' Lodge program administered by Alberta Seniors and housing. See in Housing Resources: Affordable/Subsidized Housing Page 119.

SUPPORTIVE LIVING INFORMATION CHECKLIST

Sage has developed the Supportive Living Information Checklist for you to use as you investigate the different facilities that may be able to provide accommodation and services that you require (now and in the future). The list (see pages to follow) is also available on Sage's website www.mysage.ca/help/housing. We have tried to include all areas important to a successful relocation.

There are many facilities in the community and it can become confusing with the amount of information that you will be given. The Seniors Supportive Living Information checklist is designed to help you get all the information you need.

To make the search easier we suggest:

1. Consider the area of the city that will provide the best access to services, amenities, and family supports.
2. Consider any services or activities that are very important to you (place of wor-ship, gardening, library, etc).
3. Use the checklist to learn the types of questions to ask and prevent issues that may arise after you move in.
4. Call the buildings that you are interested in and schedule a tour to view the building and individual suites.
5. As you are touring a building, ask the manager as many questions as you need to become an informed "shopper". You don't need to ask every question. Just those you think apply to your situation, now and in the future.
6. Use a separate checklist for each building.
7. When you have toured all the buildings that you are interested in, compare the completed checklists.
8. Eliminate the facilities that do not meet the specifications that are important to you.

9. Make your informed decision for your new home.

Download the checklist at www.mysage.ca/help/housing.
